Expanded Services

New Partnerships

are pleased to announce two new partnerships that will supplement our consulting services. These collaborations are the result of intentional consideration into what we have heard is needed from the nonprofit community. We are now working with JVS Careers, FORVIS, and VonLehman CPA Advisory Firm to support demand in human resource and financial operations.

Having solid human resources is foundational to all organizations and recruiting new staff is a time-consuming and difficult task for nonprofits. OneSource Center is now working with JVS Careers to supplement our internal HR-related consulting services. When you are looking to strengthen your team or for your next staff search, contact us to learn how we and JVS Careers can help.

Good accounting and internal controls are critical for daily operations. Our Financial Review is a basic assessment using best practices from nonprofit financial management. We are collaborating with CPAs from FORVIS and VonLehman CPA Advisory Firm to facilitate the Financial Review and provide expert guidance to review and improve your financial operations and processes.

We are happy to provide expanded support to nonprofits through these partnerships. To learn more about these and other consulting services, read our blog post with more details or contact Amanda Lynn Barker at abarker@onesourcectr.org.

Post-Pandemic Legal Requirements

The federal government has ended the COVID-19 public health emergency as of May 11, but that does not mean employers can automatically terminate reasonable accommodations.

The updated EEOC guidance recommends that employers regularly consult CDC guidance on current requirements. Pro Bono Partnership of Ohio recently shared Updated Covid-19 Guidance.

How Grantmakers Improve Relationships With NPOs from The Nonprofit Times

Foundant Technologies brought together a panel of four experienced grant professionals to address a group of more than 200 grantmakers this past December. The purpose of the virtual event was to explore how grantmakers could improve relationships with nonprofits, to promote partnerships between grantmakers and grantseekers, and to contribute towards mutual trust.

Although scheduled to last one hour, most grantmakers were still tuned in when the event ended after 1 hour and 30 minutes, and the chat box was filled with questions and requests for similar sessions. The grant pros had a lot to say, and clearly the funders were interested.

The Importance of Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion (DEI) in Nonprofit Organizations from Nonprofit Technology News

Diversity, Equity and Inclusion (DEI) are new norms in most organizations. This is also the case for nonprofits where DEI are critical components that enable charities to be strong and effective. Since nonprofits are founded on the principles of serving a community or cause, DEI is crucial for ensuring that their work is inclusive and equitable for all. In this article, we will explore the importance of DEI in nonprofit organizations, starting by defining DEI, inward versus outward DEI and why DEI is vital for your nonprofit organization.
