Bhawana is a versatile and skilled technology professional with an IT experience of over 16 years. As a consultant with Tata Consultancy Services she worked both in India and in the United States in customer facing roles. She is a Certified Software Quality Analyst (CSQA), Project Management Professional (PMP certified from PMI.org) and a Certified Scrum Master (from scrumalliance.org). During her employment she has played multiple roles and is skilled as a Developer, Business Analyst, QA-Analyst, Organization Change Manager, Project Leader/Manager, Scrum Master and as an IT-Auditor for Projects. Apart from these, Bhawana is also experienced in various project methodologies like agile & waterfall. Bhawana has been a mentor, coaching Project Managers to get PMP certified. She has received numerous recognitions in her place of work, including the Johnson & Johnson IMPACT Award for best Business Process in managing seven cross functional Stakeholders groups. Her industry expertise include health care, retail, banking, web-eCommerce and manufacturing.

Once Bhawana moved to Cincinnati, she became an active volunteer with the Sycamore School district PTO. One of her key responsibilities has been chairing the International Cultural Event for the past two years.

OneSource Experience

As a new volunteer Bhawana looks forward to incorporating all her skills of analytical, planning and IT Project managerial skills into her OneSource Center consulting projects.
