Dale retired from the Pennsylvania Office of Mental Health and Substance Abuse Services following a 35-year career with the government agency. He served as Director, Division of Program Standards and Licensing. He proceeded to become a part time mentoring and development consultant with Community Services Group. Dale's expertise includes executive management, team-building, training, mentoring and coaching.

Dale's passion for promoting mental health extends into his volunteer activities. He was a member of the Federal Review Team that surveyed Marine Corps facilities worldwide to ensure that mental health and family services were offered to active members of the service. In York County, Pennsylvania, he was court appointed special advocate for Youth. He also has been a crisis mental health worker for the American Red Cross. Currently he volunteers in Maple Knoll Village's Memory Support Program, Pathways.

OneSource Experience

Dale helped develop the curriculum for the People's Liberty new nonprofit leadership workshops.
