Bob is a retired executive who spent a large portion of his career with Milacron, Inc, or its affiliates. He developed a strong reputation for his leadership in driving teams to sales excellence and in creating cash flow growth in a variety of industrial settings. While president of one of Milacron's divisions, Cimcool Industrial Products, he grew sales by 60% and generated an increased profit of 23% over a 14-year period. As Vice-President-General Manager of Milacron's consumable products division, he restructured the division and improved productivity by 25%. Bob has also taken up the challenge of business turn-arounds. While president of Allison Abrasives, he increased sales by 50% in 2 years. By reducing marketing costs by a high margin, he was able to turn the company from a loss to a profitable status in two months. Since retirement, he has been the principal of Blue Ash Management.

Bob is the former president of the United States Cutting Tool Institute.
