Gerry is a marketing professional. He retired in 2017 as Assistant Director of Development, Farmer Business School at Miami University. Gerry has more than 35 years' experience as a sales professional with small and large corporations selling intangibles to managers and executives. In addition, he brings nonprofit volunteer experience in building relationships with organization members, increasing funding both from individuals and larger groups, and managing projects.

Gerry's volunteer efforts include serving as president of Rockdale Temple, chairing committees, serving on local and national boards, and assisting groups with the development of strategic plans. He currently is President of the Hillel Board of Trustees at Miami University.

OneSource Experience

Making use of his financial development acumen, Gerry assists with the annual OneSource gala. He also conducts nonprofit grants research. He was the past project leader assigned to the Hearing, Speech, & Deaf Center. Gerry developed a fundraising plan for ISpace and facilitated a board development retreat for Wesley Community Services. He served on the teams assigned to People's Liberty, New Life Mission, the Bhutanese Community, and Jewish Cemeteries of Greater Cincinnati. Gerry also is a past EXCEL coach.
