As a media, marketing, and communications executive, Judy leads and inspires teams to achieve high-impact results. Prior to retirement, she was Vice-President, Marketing Services and Officer of the U.S. Executive Team at Kao. Immediately prior to that role she was Associate Director in Marketing and in Media at Procter & Gamble. Judy's skill sets include brand building, organization and team development, digital and social media marketing, crisis communication strategies, leadership development, and business process improvement.

Judy's volunteer activities revolve around supporting children and youth. She has served as a reading tutor with Ohio Reads/Childhood Literacy. She was a mentor for a mini-company with Junior Achievement and she served as communication chair for the P & G start-up, Children's for Children. Judy is a former board member with the Sycamore Athletic Boosters and the Sycamore Hockey Association.

OneSource Experience

Judy looks forward to assisting with marketing, communications, and media-related projects.
