

Rob Johnston

Volunteer Consultant
Consultant Since: 2016

OneSource Center
936 Dalton Avenue
Cincinnati, OH 45203
Telephone: 513.554.4944

Professional History

- Procter & Gamble

Education

- University of Florida, M.S.,
Chemical Engineering
- Washington University, B.S.,
Chemical Engineering

Rob retired from Procter & Gamble, having spent nearly 38 years with the corporation. Most recently, he was Section Head, Beauty Care, Research and Development. Managing teams of engineers and scientists, his responsibilities included organizational development, strategy development and implementation, and raw material supply chain optimization. Rob is particularly skilled in risk management, strategic planning, data analysis, and change management.

Rob has been involved in community activities as an Elder with LifeSpring Christian Church.

OneSource Center Experience

Rob has been the project leader assigned to Your Store of the Queen City, Girls Health Period, and United Methodist Church Food Ministries Inventory Management. He was part of projects with two different school systems in the Greater Cincinnati area. Rob also helps with initial project assessments.