

Tom Clark

Volunteer Consultant
Consultant Since: 2022

OneSource
936 Dalton Avenue
Cincinnati, Oh 45203
Telephone: 513.554.4944

Professional History

- Xavier University
- University of North Carolina
Charlotte
- Indiana University East

Education

- Ph.D., Indiana University
- M.A., Indiana University
- B.A., Drew University

Certification

- Crucial Conversations & Crucial
Accountability
- Member, Popular Culture
Association

Tom is Professor Emeritus of Management & Entrepreneurship at Xavier University after teaching there from 1981-2021. His areas of professional interest and research included ethics and professional communication, disability rights, social entrepreneurship, business, career, and environmental communication, and public relations and crisis communication. While at Xavier, Tom was voted Outstanding Professor by the students of the William College of Business and also was the recipient of the Outstanding Service Award from that business school. Further, he received the Student Athlete Faculty Appreciation Award. During his time at Xavier, Tom was the director of the Small Business Institute for several years.

Tom has written five books and numerous professional articles on topics ranging from communications to career strategies to organizational behavior.

Additionally, Tom has his own consulting practice, Communiskills, through which he has conducted hundreds of business communication workshops, primarily with P&G and Microsoft.

OneSource Experience

As a new volunteer, Tom looks forward to assisting with leadership development training.