Angela is a leader who is passionate about helping organizations build and scale processes in order to help accelerate business growth, to attract and retain top talent, and to develop high performing teams. She has over 20 years of HR experience with a focus in the financial industry (banking and insurance) with proven results of growth through size and revenue.

A long-time employee of Fifth Third Bank, Angela currently is Senior Enterprise Program Manager with that institution, as well as a Vice President in the Transformation Office. In those roles, she is responsible for modernizing many of the banking systems across the Consumer and Commercial businesses with multiple strategic integrators and third-party technology vendors. Her responsibilities include change control, risk management, and regulatory and board reporting updates. Angela also has worked as Senior HR Business Partner at Westfield.

Angela has been honored as a United Way Emerging Leader. She also has served on the board of directors for the Madisonville Education & Assistance Center.

OneSource Experience

As a OneSource volunteer, Angela looks forward to working on strategic planning and business development projects, as well as coaching.
