Tracey Grabowski is an experienced, strategic, collaborative Human Resources leader. As Chief Human Resources Officer at P&G, she was responsible for developing and executing the organization strategy and plan in support of P&G's business strategy. This included attracting and developing diverse talent, building skills and capabilities, designing and leveraging the operating model to accelerate value creation, and leading cultural transformation to unleash the potential of 100,000 colleagues across 70 countries.

Tracey believes in empowering leaders; building productive, powerful, and effective organizations; and creating a principled, inclusive, and values-driven environment.

As a key member of P&G's senior leadership team, Tracey worked in partnership with the CEO, executive team, and Board of Directors. She worked closely with the Board on a range of topics including CEO succession, executive compensation, leadership development, organization design, and culture.

Outside of work, Tracey has been an active member of the Greater Cincinnati community, including serving on the Board of Directors of the United Way of Greater Cincinnati. She also served on the Advisory Board for the University of Dayton School of Business Administration.

OneSource Experience

As a OneSource volunteer, Tracey looks forward to coaching participants in EXCEL, as well as working on strategic planning and board development projects.
