Mary Conlon is an educational management professional with proven experience in hiring, coordinating, training, evaluating and supervising personnel. She has strong expertise in communicating work expectations and teaching the skills related to meeting those expectations.

Mary retired from Kettering City Schools in 2020 as the administrator responsible for coordinating special education services at the district's high school. Prior to that, she was the administrator who coordinated special education services for preschool and high school students with Lebanon City Schools. Mary also worked as an administrator at Sidney City Schools and Dayton Public Schools.

OneSource Experience

As a OneSource volunteer, Mary looks forward to working on leadership development, business solutions, board development, and strategic planning projects.
