Brian has extensive leadership in non-profit and for-profit organizations, concentrating on connecting people with resources that can help them. He is experienced in business operations, Peer Recovery Support, and leading therapeutic groups, and he has an in-depth knowledge of recovery housing. Additionally, Brian's background includes expertise in marketing and communications.

Brian currently owns and operates Recovery Navigators, which works with families and those struggling with substance abuse to find resources to begin recovery from addiction. In this role, Brian provides personalized and customized help to individuals who are beginning in recovery, designed to smooth their entry into their recovery journey, and increase the likelihood of long-term success. Previously, Brian has worked with a number of other organizations in the recovery sector, including Talbert House, Hotel California by the Sea, and Serenity Recovery Network.

Prior to his work in the recovery sector, Brian served as Vice President, Communications and Strategic Planning for Freestore Foodbank. Brian also was the CEO of MacConnell Marketing Communications, which focused on brand strategy, advertising, and public relations.

An active community member, Brian has served on numerous nonprofit boards, including serving as board chair for Saint Ursula Academy, Cystic Fibrosis Foundation, and Enjoy the Arts/START. Brian is an alumnus of Leadership Cincinnati Class XVII and Leadership Ohio Class III.

OneSource Experience

As a OneSource volunteer, Brian looks forward to working on strategic planning, business solutions, and leadership development projects, as well as coaching.
