Melody Geraci is an energetic, engaging, and passionate non-profit professional with a 20-year record of leadership and experience. She is knowledgeable in multiple aspects of organizational administration, issue advocacy, and executive management, with demonstrated success in strategic planning, coalition building, and technical assistance.

Melody currently is the Deputy Executive Director for the Active Transportation Alliance, a nonprofit transportation advocacy organization based in Chicago. Her responsibilities include leading the development, operationalization, and monitoring of the strategic plan, creating a Theory of Change and corresponding work plans, leading the budgeting process, and helping design and execute fundraising approaches, including major donor cultivation, the membership program, and grant and contract procurement. Melody also has served twice as the Interim Executive Director of the agency.

Prior to her time with the Alliance, Melody was the Homesharing Program Manager for the Lawyers Committee for Better Housing, as well as a Cook County Court Watchers Program Manager for the Better Government Association.

OneSource Experience

As a OneSource volunteer, Melody looks forward to working on leadership development, strategic planning, and board development projects.
